HOUSE REFUSES OPPOSE PENSION

EFFORTS TO INSTRUCT CON-FEREES OPPOSE CHANGES WERE VOTED DOWN

AUSTIN, Oct. 22.--(AP)-The house of representatives refused to go on record today against deliberalization of the old age pension law. The house voted, 84 to 60, to give its conferees on an omnibus tax bill no instruc-tions except to have the compro-mise proposal on members' desks

Opponents of a more restrictive pension statute urged that the house spokesmen on the committee be instructed to stand firm against deliberalization amendment adopt-

The vote was on a resolution by Rep. Alfred Petsch of Fredericks-burg, offered as a substitute for one by Rep. Alf Roark of Saratoga which would have instructed the house conferees not to consider de-liberalization.

It was regarded by many members as an important initial test of sentiment in the legislature toward deliberalization. Some forecast the law was definitely headed for drastic restrictions and another special session of the legislature probably would be averted.

To Reconcile Differences
In the conference committee, efforts will be made to reconcile differences between the senate and the house on various taxes proposed to raise additional revenue for old neg assistance.

Speaker Coke Stevenson named as house members of the committee Hollis Frazier of Franklin, Jesse James of Cameron, R. H. Good of Cooper, Harold M. Hankamer of El Paso and A. T. McKinney of Hunts-come after prolonged and caustic debate in which charges that the legislature was being asked to break faith with the people alter-nated with declarations that Texas' pension statute would bankrupt the state.

Petsch told the house the legislature was facing the most serious question with which it had been confronted in years.

Legislature Not

Agreed on Revenues

AUSTIN, Oct. 20.—(P)—The house and senate of the Texas legislature appeared ready to agree on one of the issues presented in special session by Governor Allred and just as ready to disagree on the other.

Rep. George Davisson of Eastland and Senator Allan Shivers of Port Arthur both expressed gratification at the work of a conference committee on unemployment insurance bills. They said the finished act would be ready for a vote either today or tomorrow and that slight changes in both pieces of legislation would not bring serious objection to passage from either body.

The houses, however, were at a wide variance on the main proposal—to provide revenue for old age pensions.

The Texas house of representatives passed bills today to double the tax on horse race bets and impose a levy of one-half cent a pound on carbon black.

The senate likewise favored additional taxes on race wagers and carbon black but its suggested rates were lower.

The house bill would increase the state's share of bets from 21-2 to 5 per cent and reduce the trackman's portion from 7-1-2 to 5 per cent. The senate had adopted an amendment to the house omnibus bill to provide for a state tax of 4 per cent, with the track's share reduced only to 7 per cont.

The senate further revised the omnibus bill to place a tax of 1-2 cent per pound on carbon black when its value was four cents or less and three per cent of value when it was selling for more than four cents.

The house vote on passage of the race bet bill was 96 to 28 and on the carbon black proposal, 106 to 19.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 22.—(A)
—Rear Admiral Harry G. Hamlet, federal maritime commission representative, made plans today to start hearings Monday in the Pacific Coast waterfront labor dispute after indicating attempts to effect a one-year truce had failed.

Shipowners at first agreed to the year's truce, Hamlet said in a statement last night, but the unions asked certain changes in the old working agreements. The shipowners then requested that the matter "go along to an investigate." owners then requested that the matter "go along to an investigation of the entire situation as orgnally promised by the martime commission." Union requests were not made public.

Union leaders continued taking ballots among their membership.

TEXAS FIRMS LOW BIDDERS FOR GREAT DAM ON COLORADO

STRUCTURE WITHIN AUSTIN CITY LIMITS WILL COST NEARLY SIX MILLIONS

AUSTIN, Oct. 20.—(P)— Brown and Root, Inc., of Austin, and McKenzie Construction company of San Antonio, bidding jointly, were low bidders on construction of Marshall Ford dam of the lower Colorado dam of the lower Colorado River Authority in Travis county, at opening of bids today by the United States reclamation bureau. The low bid was $5.781,235.

The government will furnish cement and steel, in addition to the construction bid, and the authority will purchase 30,000 acres of land to be covered by the lake formed by the dam. Total cost of the project is estimated at approximately $10,000,000.

Bids were to be sent to Washington for authorization by the federal government of a contract.

Marshall Ford Dam is located in the Colorado river, 23 miles northwest of Austin. In the upper end of Lake Austin. It is in the city limits of Austin, which cover the entire Austin Lake bed.

The dam will be 180 feet high, 4.000 feet long, and will impound 1,500,000 acre-feet of water.

Officials estimated legal procedure in Washington may be completed within two weeks. Specifications call for immediate beginning of the project. An estimated 1,500 persons will be employed on the dam.

"Radical" is a popular term of condemnation for anybody with whom we happen to disagree. One face of the world's bogeyman is radical communism; the other face is radical fascism. Between the two, mankind is in a jittery state.

Really, what is wrong with the present-day social panaceas is not that they are radical, but there is no falled in move to the root of the matter. We must look for a more radical remedy than any that is being proclaimed from soap-boxes or society dinner tables. These are all to be rejected as mere superficial expedients, and inadequate half-way measures. Something lustier more vital and more workable must be found.

Here Is Real Radicalism

Fortunately, what we seek is supported to the contemporary world scare.

Real radicalism thas half the contemporary world scared. "Radicalism for any polar term of contemporary world scared." Radicalism for love, as a single life, or a community, lived to the found.

Fortunately, what we seek is right at hand for everybody's consideration. Many millions of Sunday School members will be studying it this week. For in Saint Paul's matchless presentation of love we have the philosophy which goes down deeper, rises higher and reaches farther from any of the social and political many of the social ophy which goes down deeper, rises higher and reaches farther for man is the love way. God than any of the social and political plans now clamoring for at-cal plans now clamoring for attention.

Here we are dealing with what Henry Drummond called "The Createst Thing in the World"—and Drummond's masterly analysis of this Thirteenth Chapter of Corinthians should be read and re-read by any one giving serious attention to the subject. Paul himself definitely contrasts love with the two other major passions, hope and faith, and affirms categorically that love is the greatest of the three.

For love strikes at the root. It controls human hearts. It shapes all the thoughts and actions of life. It transforms personality. It recreates society. It alone is sufficiently radical to meet all the perplexing needs of the world's present predicament. In the coldest and most deliberate calculation possible to this pen—and to multitudes far abler—the only way out for the world is the love way.

Greatest Of All Classics.

Greatest Of All Classics.
Instead of writing around this revolutionary message of Paul to the turbulent and imperfect Christians of Corinth, let us read his words for ourselves:—

"Though I speak with the tongues of men and of angels and have not Love. I am become as sounding brass, or a tinkling cymbal. And though I have the gift of prophecy, and understand all mysteries, and all knowledge; and though I have all faith, so that I could remove mountains, and have not Love, it profiteth me nothing. Love suffereth long, and is kind: Love envieth not; Love vaunteth not itself, is not puffed up, doth not behave itself unseemly, seeketh not her own, is not easily provoked, thinketh no evil; rejoiceth not in iniquity, but rejoiceth in the truth; beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things. Love never faileth; but whether there be prophecies, they shall cease; whether there be knowledge, it shall vanish away. For we know in part, and we prophesy in part. But when that which is perfect is come, then that which is perfect is come, then that which is perfect is now then that which is in part shall be done away. When I was a child, I spake as a child, I understood as a child, I thought as a child; but when I became a man, I put away childish things. For now we see through a glass, darkly; but then face to face; now I know in part; but then shall I know even as also I am known. And now abideth faith, hope, Love, these three; but the greatest of these is Love."

It Is Being Tried.

A Browning, checking up on reports made by various ceremonial organization chiefs, has expressed himself as convinced that there will be a pleasant time in store for all who go to town. The ceremonial, as usual, will follow close of the Scottish Rite Masonic reunion, to run from Monday, Nov. 9, Thrusday, Nov. 12, inclusive.

There is to be a parade in the old-time Hella manner, with a ceremonial dinner and the Hella style entertainment and stage show.

natural gas pipe line as a state enterprise.

"Enjoining great secrecy because the governor of Kansas did not want his colleagues in the oil business to get wind of it," Ickes said, "Mr. White unfolded a pian by which Kansas, as a state enterprise, would build a pipe line to the natural gas fields in Southwestern Kansas and market that natural gas in competition with private industry.

"It also developed later that Governor Landon did not propose to take the people of his state into his confidence until it was too late for them to block his ambitious plan x x x. The cost of Mr. Landon's little pipe dream would be $35,000,000."

Landon, in a statement issued in Los Angeles, said the gas negotiations were undertaken in a successful fight to obtain lower gas. He said he favored "public ownership as a gun behind the door" in adjusting rates.

The reason he asked Ickes to keep the negotiations secret, he said, was that if they had been made public "the private gas interests would have pre-empted all the avallable gas reserves and we would have been out of luck."

COCKTAIL FOR YOUR FACE

If your face is suffering from general fatigue, you might try Miss Forbes' quick, stimulating treatment described today. Directions are in the Beauty Chats. Whenever your face gets that tired and discouraged appearance which all little working girls like ourselves know so well, why, it's time for a foundation cream. Then powder, rouge, lipstick, eye make-up and a second powdering to tone it all down and you won't be ashamed to look at yourself in the glass. Instead of a tired and haggard countenance, you will see yourself once more young, bright-eyed, fresh and cheerful looking—in fact, as you should look.

Liverpool reported hedging and scattered liquidation.

The market was quiet but steady later in the morning with traders inclined to await weather devolopments in view of the frost fortcast for north portions of the belt west of the Mississippi river. Jan. was ruling at 11.81 and July at 1.89 with the market generally net unchanged to 3 points lower at mid-day. Another private estimate on ginnings prior to Oct. 18 was issued, placing the total amount at 7,936,000 bales.

House Engages In

Caustic Debate

AUSTIN, Oct. 22.—(P)—Members of the Texas house of represent atives locked in prolonged and caustic debate today over the issue of deliberalizing the state old age assistance law.

Charges that the legislature was being asked to break faith with the peple alternated with declarations that the pension statute would bankrupt the state.

The immediate question was whether the house should instruct a conference committee not to consider an amendment attached by the senate to a tax bill which

Constitutional Amendments

Editor's Note—A summary of consti-tutional amendments to be voted on No-verther 3, prepared by the secretary of state, will be carried, one each day, until the six have been presented. The intention is to analyze, without bias, the content rather than the morits of each prepagal.

S. J. R. N. 18.

Proposal No. 2 effecting a change in the State Constitution is S. J. R. Retirement Fund for school teachers and persons employed in public schools, colleges and universities, supported wholly or partly by the State.

According to the interpretation of Secretary of State, B. P. Matocha, it is provided that the State shall contribute to such Retirement Fund an amount equal to that paid for the same purpose from the income of each such person. It is a matching plan. Each person so employed in such State schools, colleges and universities will likely be required to set aside so much of their salary and the State will set aside a like amount. This amendment further provides that the amount contributed to such Retirement Fund by the State shall not exceed at any time five per cent of the compensation tify D. W. Hutson, Route 2, Corsicana.

Sou In interpreting the Amendment Secretary of State B. P. Matocha said: "The proposed Board of Pardons and Paroles would be comprised of three members; one of whom would be appointed by the governor; one by the chief justice of the supreme court and justice of the supreme court and one by the chief justice of the Court of Criminal Appeals. They will serve for six years, one member's term expiring every two years. It would be impossible in this manner for any one individual or official to ever have complete control of the board."

The governor is given the any minority party, including the Jeffersonian Democrats, needs aid I will, help it, even if I go to jail for it."

The Jeffersonian Democrats of Texas are actively opposing the new deal and the re-election of President Roosevelt.

This amendment, was given its impetus by Governor James V. Alired, who is advocating its enactment. It is believed that its adoption may be a step toward ending abuses and stopping mistakes made in the issuance of various forms of clemency. In cases of treason, under the terms of the proposed amendment the governor has the power to grant reprieves, commutations of punishment and pardons with the advice and consent of the Legislature.

At the present time all power of clemency, commutations, etc., is vested in the governor and no small portion of his time is devoted to reviewing the thousands of applications. It is a strain and a responsibility which many feel is too much to place on any one individual.

unto harmony, and my imprisoned light set free.""

Ann Sullivan was a pupil of Laura Bridgman, a teacher at the Perkins institution for the blind in Boston which was organized by Dr. Samuel Gridley Howe, husband of Julia Ward Howe. Howe was the first physician to break the walls of silence and darkness for a deaf and blind per-son, and Laura Bridgman was his most noted pupil.

most noted pupil.

Ann, who was born near Springfield, Mass., April 14, 1866, was virtually blind when she entered the institution in 1880 but recovered sufficient sight to enable her to read. She learned to study with her fingers and also learned to "talk" through the manual telegraphic or finger, alphabet.

A miracle of education and pattence later gave Miss Keller the power to speak, even to read, as she became one of the most famous women of the past decades.

But this morning time rolled back again. Miss Keller sat at the bedside of her benefactress. Mrs. Macy was in a coma, as she had been for four days following a sudden heart attack. This time it was Miss Keller's turn to try desperately to awaken recognition through her fingertips, as Mrs. Macy had taught her. But the aged woman died without rallying.

Heartbroken, Miss Keller, now 56 years old, said as she left the bedside:

Cut Due Demand AMARILLO, Oct. 20—(P)—Texas oil production was reduced to meet the market demand as reflected by the Bureau of Mines estimate. Col. Ernest O. Thompson, chairman of the Texas Railroad Commission, said today. There are two methods of determining allowable. One is on nominations and the other by Bureau of Mines estimates, he said.

said. "The Bureau of Mines at pres-"The Bureau of Mines at present is making a thorough study, I understand, of the basis of forecasting demands," Colonel Thompson said. "This study, as I understand it, is to be completed in time for the December estimate."

Colonel Thompson declared that Colonel Thompson declared that nominations were called for six months and that they averaged about as at present, indicating a steady market during the winter. "The little fellow will be helped by the six months forecast," Colonel Thompson said.
